

Step

1

To begin, try answering these three questions!

Q1.

What do you want your future self to be like?

Q2.

Why do you feel that way?

Q3.

How do you think your future self will feel?

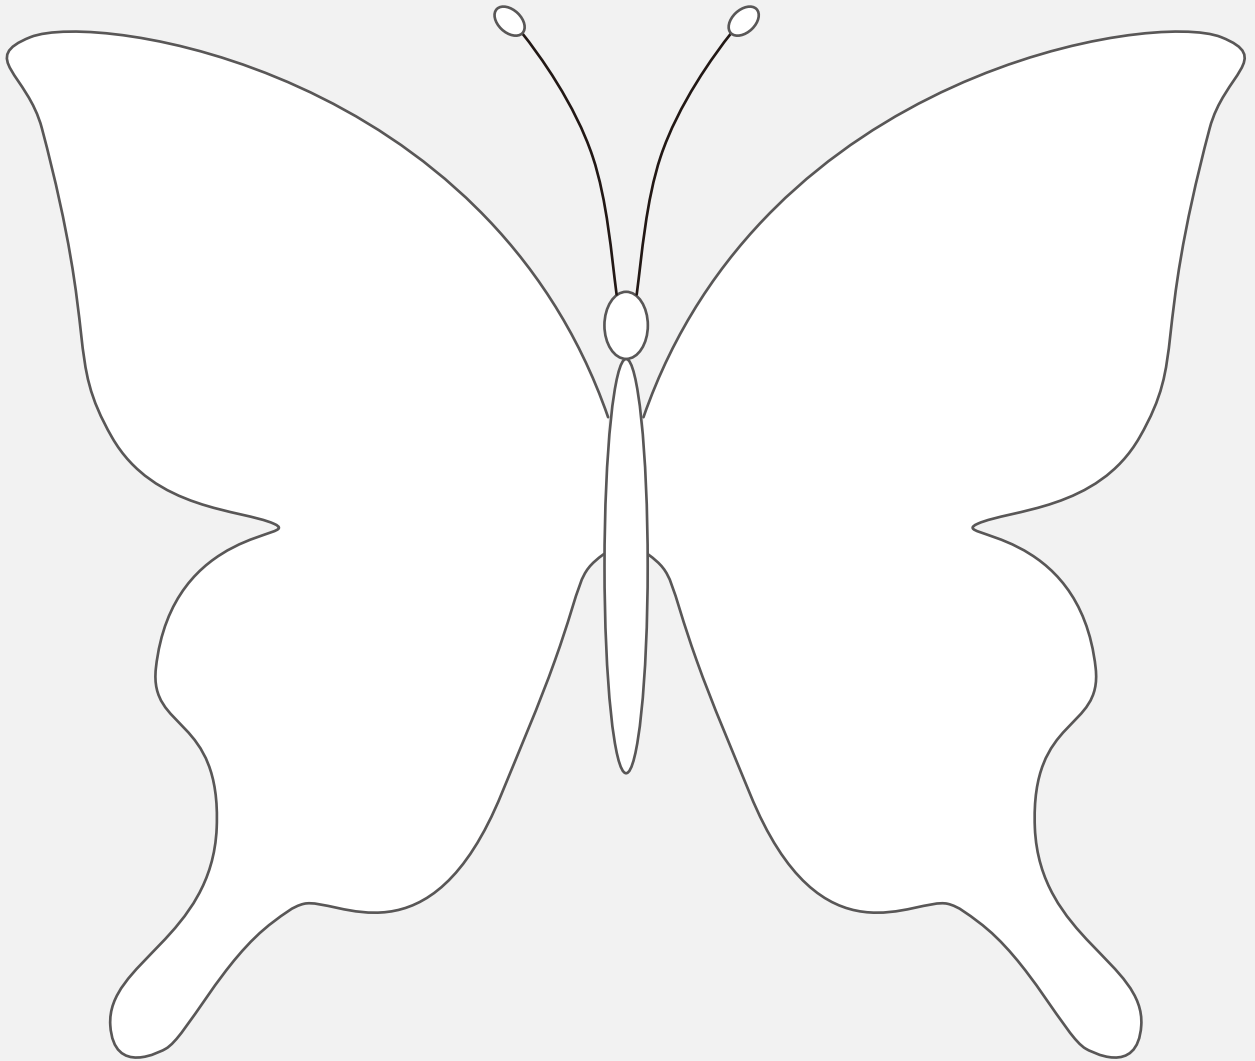

To Parents/Guardians

Please carefully read the following notes before applying.

1. All content published on the application sheet will be publicly available on the website, so please make sure that no personally identifiable information is included. Pay special attention to ensure that the nickname (the applicant's name displayed on the AWRD site) does not include the applicant's real name.
2. When applying, scan both pages of the application sheet and upload them as JPEG image files.
3. Works that are deemed to infringe on copyrights or be morally inappropriate may not be published. Please make sure to carefully read the 'To Parents/Guardians' page on the AWRD site in advance.

Next, express your feelings about the future by drawing them as colors and patterns on the butterfly!

In a single word that expresses your design, give the butterfly a name!

A large, empty rectangular box with a decorative border, intended for writing the name of the butterfly.
